

Why

Sabrina Carpenter

You like New York City in the daytime
I like New York City in the nighttime
You say you like sleeping with the air off
I don't
I need it on
You like the light coming through the windows
I sleep late, so I just keep 'em all closed
You ignore the music on the radio I don't
I sing along I don't ask for you to change
Baby, no no no And you don't ask for me to change Tell me how we're not alike
But we work so well
And we don't even know why
Funny how the stars crossed right
'Cause we work so well
And we don't even know why
You can call it fire and ice But we work so well
And we don't even know why
We don't even know why, no no
We don't even know why, no no no No no, no no No no, no no Cold outside and you're just in a t-shirt
I have cold blood even in a sweater You start your night sippin' by the kilo
I don't
I know you know
I don't ask for you to change
Baby, no no no
And you don't ask for me to change Tell me how we're not alike
But we work so well
And we don't even know why
Funny how the stars crossed right
'Cause we work so well
And we don't even know why
You can call it fire and ice But we work so well
And we don't even know why
We don't even know why, no no
We don't even know why, no no no No no, no no
We don't even know
No no, no no We don't even
No no no no Somehow we end up on the same side
And you wouldn't think that we'd be alright Even our eyes are different colors
But we see fine
Somehow we end up on the same side
And you wouldn't think that we'd be alright

Even our eyes are different colors
But we see fine Tell me how we're not alike
But we work so well
And we don't even know why, why
Funny how the stars crossed right
'Cause we work so well
But we don't even know why
You can call it fire and ice
'Cause we work so well
And we don't even know why, why
We don't even know why, no no
We don't even know why, no no no
No no, no no
Oh
We don't even know why (no no, no no)

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>