Hummingbird (OX2 Remix)

Kyla La Grange

Oh baby I'm a light left on Still waiting for the moment Burn steady and the fuse is gone High and heavy, and I've blown itOh baby I'm a flightless bird Crying out to the treetops Wings heavy and my voice unheard Keep saying I'm enough, ohWatch your step Find your love Use your legs Keep it upBrace your heart Know yourself Face the dark Ask for help Like a hummingbird I'll hover But never taste the fruit Like the memory of a lover That flickers into view And all the things you wanted, that kept on calling you And you try, but cannot chooseOh baby I'm an unmade bed Uncovered in the half light Still warm from you sleeping here So empty that I could cry And oh baby this is what you say I'm never gonna not run You never would've killed us dead You were right I'm a shotgunWatch your step Find your love Use your legs Keep it up Like a hummingbird I'll hover But never taste the fruit Like the memory of a lover That flickers into view And all the things you want to, that kept on calling you And you try, but cannot chooseNo don't don't let me let you down Don't don't let me let you down Don't don't let me let you down, no don'tNo don't don't let me let you down Don't don't let me let you down Don't don't let me let you down, no don'tOh I still want you baby So help me stay from words Oh I still want you baby So help me stay for worseLike a hummingbird I'll hover

But never taste the fruit Like the memory of a lover That flickers into view And all the things you want to, that kept on calling you And you try, but cannot chooseLike a hummingbird I'll hover But never taste the fruit Like the memory of a lover That flickers into view And all the things you want to, that kept on calling you And you try, but cannot choose
