

Far from Right

Habibi

You don't really want me now, but I think you do
You don't really want me now 'cause I prove it to you
You think you're the only one that's out of sight Baby let me show you how far you are from right far you're far away far from right
far you're far away far from right
far far far far far from right
far far far far far from right
You got a lot of nerve to come to my seat
You ain't gotta wear a crown if you think you're ugly Baby better get it straight, better hit the door
You say you don't want me but i don't want you no more no no no don't want you no more
no no no don't want you no more
no no no don't want you no more
You don't really want me now but I think you do
You think you're the only one who's out of sight
Baby let me show you how far you are from right
far you're far away far from right
far you're far away far from right
far far far far far from right
far far far far far from right
