I Thought You Knew

Keith Urban

I thought You knew, guess I assumed too much I don't know how, but now we're so far out of touch And I never planned, to so misunderstand But what you needed, you never asked me to give And I swear as I live...I thought you knew my heart was yours And that we were so together That we, would always be I don't believe, you leavin' me is the answer I'm not askin' you to let me rush back in and fail again I'm askin' for one chance, not to assume So I can say and do all the things I thought you knewSo far we're still so far From where we know we should be I'm searching for words And you haven't heardI thought you knew my heart was yours And that we were so together That we, would always be I don't believe, you leavin' me is the answer I'm not askin' you to let me rush back in and fail again I'm askin' for one chance, not to assume So I can say and do all the things I thought you knewI thought you knewOhhhhhh god I thought you knew!
