

Whatever You Say

Martina McBride

you think I'm always making something out of nothing saying everything is ok you've always got an answer before i ask the question
...whatever you say now we can change the subject pretend i never brought it up same old story anyway later we can work it out but right now your talked out ...yeah whatever you say
CHOURS
i know you can hear me
but i'm not sure your listening i hear what your saying but still there something missing whether i go whether i stay right now depends on whatever you say you say yes you need me and no you wouldn't leave me and this should be enough to make me stay and even though i want to i don't hear i love you
.in whatever you say
whatever you say oh whether i go whether i stay right now depends on
.whatever you say...whatever you say
...whatever you say
