

Intro (feat. Emalyn)

Crywolf

Once I was afraid that I'd find you
Your patient trembling eyes would unwind me
And all I've become

Once I was afraid I'd fall in love with you
For the first time
For the first time
For the first time

Let's go set fire to all these houses
Smoke will billow up with our laughter

The flames will lick your skin
And I fall in love with you

For the first time
For the first time
For the first time
For the first time

The flames will lick your skin
And I fall in love with you

For the first time
