

King of Polyester

The W's

Pulled up as he parked the car
Then he took his feet and walked right up to the door
Went inside looking slick as snot
With his smile so suave that the women all dropped Bag in hand with his hammer inside it
Shoes so shiny with his Cuban cigar lit
Down two steps and to the right
Lucky ten was his number tonight Stepped on up with an arrow in sight
From the middle 1, 2, 3 to the right
Out for the hand shake, up for the call
Watch and see those rednecks fall
Who is he?
King of Polyester
Who is he?
King of Polyester
Who is he?
King of Polyester
What does he do? One after another he watched them fall
His mighty hook was way to much for them all
The people cheered as they swept them away
He turned around and said "well what can I say?" Halfway there with no sweat in sight
He swung again and knocked them down with all of his might 7, 8, 9 without a problem
The room grew silent as he came upon ten
Stepped on up with an arrow in sight
From the middle 1, 2, 3 to the right
Out for the hand shake, up for the call
Watch and see those rednecks fall Who is he?
King of Polyester
Who is he?
King of Polyester
Who is he?
King of Polyester
What does he do? Two down with one to go
If he gets the last one it will quite a show
His arm swung forward as he let it go
The air was shattered by the force of the throw Down the alley with his perfect hook
He hit them so hard the whole room shook people cheered as they hit the ground
Their ears were deafened by the crushing sound Waved to the people as he picked up his bag
Grabbed his cigar and his black silk rag
Up two steps and to the right
Out the door be back tomorrow night Who is he?

King of Polyester
Who is he?
King of Polyester
Who is he?
King of Polyester
What does he do?
