

I'm Not That Man Anymore

Survivor

Teardrops falling from your eyes like raindrops
Pouring from the skies
Remember you used to have the love I needed
Back when we were young Lovin' always came so easy
Heaven shared our love
Magic, the first time that I held you
You fit like a glove You'd soothe me with a shrug of your heart
You could move me
It always seemed my love would find you
When you needed a friend
I would be the man who would understand you
I'm not that man anymore
I'm not gonna throw my heart away
No, that's not me anymore
Baby, I've changed One look is all it took to tell me
Your love was made of lies
Madness to think that I believed your reasons
Your alibi The day girl when I turned to look the other way girl
I realized the game you were playin'
Was breakin' my heart
I could see it plainly, time has changed me
And I'm not that man anymore
I'm not gonna throw my heart away
No, that's not me anymore
Baby, I've changed And I'm not gonna throw my heart away
No, that's not me anymore
Baby, I've changed
