Lola Montez

Volbeat

Feel the fire where she walks Lola Montez so beautiful shady and a tempered dame blinding your eyes with her spider danceHer perfomance utterly erotic subversive to all ideas and for public morality and cool as she was she didn't care see the miner throw his gold lifting her skirt howling loud like a wolf hell raising and full of sin when lola was dancing and showing her skinWhereever she walks she will be captivating all the men don't look in her eyes you might fall and find the love of your life heavenlybut she'll catch you in her web the love of your life, yeaaahFeel the fire where she walksLola Montez so beautiful shady and a tempered dame blinding your eyes with her spider dance Well notorious I have been but never for fame that's what she said dear Henry taste my whip never to see any words you print Whereever she walks she will be captivating all the men don't look in her eyes you might fall and find the love of your life heavenly but she'll catch you in her web the love of your life, yeaaah Oh Lola I'm sure that the love would have been the key to all your pain the key to all your pain no words will later come did she spider bite your tongue we will surely not forget, we will surely not forget, the lola spider dance. whooa the love of your life you might fall and find her love of your life heavenly but she'll catch you in her web the love of your life, yeaah

Lyrics provided by http://counterlikes.com/