

The Day You Stop Lookin' Back

Thomas Rhett

Stop starin' at the rearview you're checkin' your hair that wheel is spun and them lights are out there ain't nothin' for you back there stop holdin' on so dang tight 'bout time you let go well he's a heart breakin' let ya down son of a gun but I ain't sayin nothin' you don't know yeah the day that you stop lookin' back you're gonna find that the future sure beats the hell outta the past now he ain't no good I guess he's good as gone
the day you stop lookin' back girl yeah, yeah is the day you start movin' on that sun's gonna come up it's gonna feel good and after all the rain and pain you've seen I hope you soak it up like you should now and then it's gonna stir up when you hear that old song but don't let it get to ya baby it's only three and a half minutes long well the day that you stop lookin' back
good as gone
yeah, yeah, yeah well now hey girl why ya lookin' back like that don't you wanna trade tears for laughs and love that could be us tonight
well the day that you stop lookin' back

yeah, it's the day you start movin' on stop starin' at the rearview
End.
