

Just About Over You

Priscilla Block

I've stopped looking for your truck every time I go somewhere
I don't scroll through the past anymore coz I don't care
Finally putting on a shirt I like, tight jeans, big hoops with my hair up high
The least you could've done was give me the bar tonight [Chorus 1]
Why'd you have to come back in, right then, right when, I was just getting good and gone
Guess i was in the wrong place, at the wrong time, you must've heard I was moving on
Then right outta the blue, quarter past 2, I'm all about you
When I was just about, just about over you
When I was just about, just about over you [Verse 2]
You could've stayed with the guys, acting like you didn't see me
It would've hurt a little less if you bought some girl a drink
But you had to walk up, messing me up, I'm drunk, wondering why it has to be like this
I thought that I was moving on, but now I'm starting back over again [Chorus 2] Why'd you have to come back in, right then, right when, I was just getting good and gone
Guess i was in the wrong place, at the wrong time, you must've heard I was moving on
Then right outta the blue, quarter past 2, I'm all about you
When I was just about, just about over you
When I was just about, just about over you
[Bridge]
Maybe you caught me on a bad night
Maybe tomorrow I'll be just fine
Maybe it's the red wine
That put you back in my mind [Chorus 3]
Why'd you have to come back in, right then, right when, I was just getting good and gone
Guess i was in the wrong place, at the wrong time, you must've heard I was moving on
Then right outta the blue, quarter past 2, I'm all about you
When I was just about, just about over you
Ohh Ohh, just about over you
