

Jumpstarting

Deer Tick

Afraid to say it you need jumpstarting
Anything to get you off of that cross
If you feel like your friends are parting
I can be your rock
Afraid to say it there are no more chances
There all [?] to lose
If the world doesn't leave you enchanted
I'll be there for you
Well if they really don't really know
Well if they really don't care
Well if they don't know or care or care
It seems to me like you're feeling so sorry
Like a string of rosary beads
Tucked away and be forgotten
Now be your beliefs
I know you're made from a darkness solely
You think they need them no matter what the cost
The hands on the clock don't seem to be moving
But you can't find time to get lost
Well if they really don't really know
Well if they really don't care
Well if they don't know or care or care
Afraid to say it there are no more chances
There all [?] to lose
If the world doesn't leave you enchanted
I'll be there for you
I'll be there for you
I'll be there for you
I'll be there for you
