Sad Eyes

Josh Rouse

Southern style Things are slow You're watching all the speeding cars Moving like you wish you could But, oh, it's too bad 'Cause they've drove away your happiness and good timesBut I'm gonna get you into the light And I'm gonna find a way that is right And I'm gonna get you into the light And make it okaySad eyes You are the only one whose Whose blue skies are gray So don't cry You'll be the only one to make them go away You're so young And so bored You were staying out till late 'Cause it was what your husband hated But, oh, it's too bad 'Cause he's stolen all your happiness and good timesBut I'm gonna get you into the light And I'm gonna find a way that is right And I'm gonna get you into the light And make it okaySad eyes You are the only one whose Whose blue skies are gray So don't cry You'll be the only one to make them go away Yeah, you could make them go away Took a lot of tears, but all you had to find was Sympathetic years, the ones you left behind, yeah Took a lot of tears, but all you had to find was Sympathetic years, the ones you left behind, yeahAnd I'm gonna get you into the light And I'm gonna find a way that is right And I'm gonna get you into the light And make it okaySad eyes You are the only one whose Whose blue skies are gray So don't cry You'll be the only one to make them go away, yeahSad eyes (Took a lot of tears, but all) You are the only one whose (You had to find was) Whose blue skies are gray (Sympathetic years, the ones you left behind) So don't cry You'll be the only one to make them go away

Things are gonna go your way Yeah, they're gonna go your way Oh, they're bound to go your way Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.
