

Supernature (feat. Beth Ditto) [Alan Braxe Remix]

Cerrone

Once upon a time
Science opened up the door
We would feed the hungry fields
Till they could'nt eat no more But the potion that we made
Touched the creatures down below
And they grow up in a way
That we'd never seen before
Supernature, supernature, supernature, supernature They were angry with the man
Cause changed their way of life
And they take their sweet revenge
As they trample through the night
For hundred miles or more
You could hear the people cry
But there is nothing you can do
Even god is on their side
God is on, god is on, god is on their side
Supernature, supernature, supernature, supernature Cars will break the light
Come flowing in the air
The creature will decide
Who goes where
How can I explain
Things are different today
Darkness all around
No one makes a sound
Such a sad affaire
No one seems to care
Supernature, supernature, supernature, supernature
Better watch out
There's no way to stop it now
You can't escape it's too late
Look what you've done
There's no place that you can run
The monsters made, we must pray Maybe nature has a plan
To control the way of man
He must start from scratch again
Many battles must he win
Till he earns his place on earth
Like the other creatures do
Will there be a happy end
Now that all depends on you

Supernature, supernature, supernature, supernature
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>