Tongue-Tied

Mia Doi Todd

Looking for a window into your soul. If and when I find it, will the blinds be closed? I drag me up the drainpipe, Leap for the fire ladder. Seventeen stories, And I'm still climbing higher.Looking for a window into your soul. If and when I find it, will the blinds be closed?I went to Samy's Camera To buy binoculars, Took home a tall telescope Ten thousand times power. Looking for a window into your soul. If and when I find it, will the blinds be closed? I set up on a rooftop Just across the way. In the summer, sweat poured. In the winter, it was rain.Looking for a window into your soul. If and when I find it, will the blinds be closed? Looking for a window into your heart. If and when I find it, will the insides be dark? Looking for a window into your mind. If and when I find it, will we both be tongue-tied?
