

Where Do You Go

Flor

So where do you go, oh, whenever you disappear?
I can't seem to find you when you slip into the night
So where do you go?
I want to follow you down
Down, down where your secrets hide
Won't you let me inside? I can see what you love, who you are
I can see how you run for the stars
All that energy that's flowing through your veins
Is it your blood to blame? Will you show me what it is that makes you so extraordinarily beautiful? So where do you go, oh, whenever you disappear?
I can't seem to find you when you slip into the night
So where do you go?
I want to follow you down
Down, down where your secrets hide
Won't you let me inside?
You're a spark, you're a blur, what a catch
Full of love, all that pain
No second best
You have something that you're hiding, I'll follow
You show it in your glow Will you show what it is that makes you so extraordinarily beautiful? So where do you go, oh, whenever you disappear?
I can't seem to find you when you slip into the night
So where do you go?
I want to follow you down
Down, down where your secrets hide
Won't you let me inside? Do you find all the joy in your soul
When you're off and you're alone?
'Cause you should, 'cause you shine so beautiful
So where do you go?
Do you not find it?
So, where do you go?
Do you not find it? So where do you go, oh, whenever you disappear?
I can't seem to find you when you slip into the night
So where do you go?
I want to follow you down
Down, down where your secrets hide
Won't you let me inside? So where do you go?
Won't you let me inside?
So where do you go?
Can't find you
Won't you let me inside? So where do you go?
