

Bombs Away

Kyle Andrews

run away
there's a bomb in the back of my head and if you stay
you might end up cleaning up the mess if all my visions turn up fatale change the station to something stable tonight i'm going straight for your throat
no you don't even know
whats coming
whats coming next
fall through the ceiling
fall through the floor
forgive the feeling
just give me more time
run away there's a bomb in the back of my head you know i love you cuz i'm still breathing forget the moments
as they come
tonight
no you don't even know
whats coming
whats coming next
