

Don't Call Me

Eric Nam

You used to be the only one in this town who stood by me
Lately you're doing everything that you can to remind me
Oh oh With your late night texts, talking to my friends
Asking if I'm coming around
I know you told 'em you already moved on
But you're lying, oh lying 3 a.m., you're in bed and you're lonely
And you're wishing that I'd fill the space in your room
You should know that it's hard on me baby
So there's one thing, one thing that you shouldn't do Don't call me
Don't, don't call me
Don't, don't call me
Why make it harder than it already is? It's beyond me, yeah
You're like my shadow, everywhere that I go you still find me I can't sleep at all, with my phone blown up
'Cause your voice still rings in my head
I know you're hung up on me baby
But please stop trying So when it's 3 a.m.
You're in bed and you're lonely
And you're wishing that I'd fill the space in your room
You should know that it's hard on me baby
So there's one thing, one thing that you shouldn't do Don't call me
Don't, don't call me
Don't, don't call me No don't call me, don't call me
If you do I'll be back where I started now
I'm too weak, I'm too weak, oh
So when it's 3 a.m., I'm in bed and I'm lonely
And I'm wishing that you'd fill the space in my room
Don't you know that it's hard on me baby
So there's one thing, one thing that you shouldn't do Don't call me
Don't, don't call me
Don't, don't call me
Don't, don't, don't, don't, don't
Don't call me
Don't, don't, don't, don't, don't
Don't call me
