

Dust in the Circuits

Bart Davenport

Steady hands reach out to you from all over the world
You wanna go where the traffic moves so slow
Lost in the wilderness of your imagination
Looking for a heart that's beating just for you
Hidden away somewhere, waiting for you
And just when you find what you've been dreaming of
There will be dust in the circuits x4
Of love
Long nights in work mode, mornings in shambles
And ironically, you're a current thing connection
Always have of the loop, never mind the network
Trying to be someone that would appeal to you
Basically, your priority is you
And just when you find what you've been dreaming of
There will be dust in the circuits x4
Of love
Days, months and years go by with little or no action
Certainly there's a spark worth the question mark
Dreams are electric and so is your new lover
For the torn he's a sewing machine
Yours to leave another lining between
And just when you find what you've been dreaming of
There will be dust in the circuits x4
Of love

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>