

Familiar

Trombone Shorty

She's sayin' that she don't know me
That girl looks familiar
I saw her beautiful face before
That girl looks familiar
Ooh she got in my thoughts, climbed up
That girl looks familiar
That girl looks familiar to me She looks like a diamond
Kinda face I don't think I'll ever forget
Deja vu
Yeah I know I know you, but it hasn't come to me yet
Probably backstage at a show
Or maybe after the after party
I remember your friend, don't remember your name
But I remember your body
She's sayin' that she don't know me
That girl looks familiar
I saw her beautiful face before
That girl looks familiar
Ooh she got in my thoughts, climbed up
That girl looks familiar
That girl looks familiar to me
Got a ring on your finger
Don't remember that the last time I saw you
Did you find somebody who can do
All the things you've been waitin' for a man to do
But you still lookin' at me
Got me thinkin' you might be unhappy
Got me thinkin' I might have a chance now
Pardon me, but can I have this dance now? Dancin' ain't really cheatin'
Unless we're doin' it every weekend
Tell your man to come through, yeah
I'll show him how to dance with you, yeah
Excuse me lady
I ain't too sure, but I think that I've seen you before
Maybe I'm crazy
But I recognized you as soon as you walked through that door
Tell me your name
Is it the same as this girl that I put in my phone (yeah)
Now I remember
You was the one that was beggin' for me take you home
She's sayin' that she don't know me
That girl looks familiar

I saw her beautiful face before
That girl looks familiar
Ooh she got in my thoughts, climbed up
That girl looks familiar
That girl looks familiar to me Now I remember
You was the one that was beggin' for me take you home
