Candil De La Calle

Apparat

Down in the blinding light It's getting cold I've been worn out by the night But I can't let goThe sounds in my ears explain I've been here too long A freedom - hard to maintain I should be goneLong have I waited here For nothing to come A sequence of twisted turns That can't be undone They're paying your rent, They're feeding your kidsBut it's taking much more Than pleasing your needsSaw the water rising, On a beautiful dayA flood only washing the ones away Who were lying in the sunAnd you're still where you begun Long have I waited here For nothing to come A sequence of twisted turns The can't be undoneAnd you hurt yourself trying

Lyrics provided by http://counterlikes.com/