In the Beginning

K'naan

YEOW!SO!In the beginning there was a hum from a poet whose pulse fell DRUM DRUM DRUM!He would perform prayers and all till one day he heard a voice call COME COME COME!Sus'pi'cious he moved with vicious caution Dismisses, he thinks is a little often People get held back by the void inside 'em. YO!The void said, I'm poised to speak inside you... "Rejoice then ...please let me invite you ... To evil, greed and lies too."YEAH!Confused and dazed he moved in ways he soon became "Hakuna" BOOM BOOM BOOMA knock on his door, his heart is no more A knock on his door, his soul is no moreYeah... That was in the beginnin' As the story goes on...So -The poet's got a proposal he would always hope but never know what it feels to be free He would be the frozen imposed as the chosen, all laws oppose him But it would be greedThat's got him there he's power-hungry, and proud tooPeople don't care, he will just care Evil don't care, he will just prayer...Yeah That was In the beginning.there was a hum...then things changedThey sayit is better to light a candle than to curse the darkin the eyes of the youth there are question markslike freedom freedom for the mind and soul, we don't see them see them for their worth at all, that's why we lead emlead em to these wars and what is it we feed emfeed em our impurities and who it is we treat emtreat em like the enemy humanity will need emneed em like the blood we spill and we're freedomfreedom for the hearts we fill we mislead emthey hunger for the love we give but we cheat emthe guys beat him and all he wants is his freedom, so they defeat him, whatever spirit he's got"beat him"and they teach him the rest of the world don't need himand he believes in the disease that he's heathenPut up your fists if all you want is freedom Put up your fists if all you want is -That was in the beginning... then things changed.yeahand we keep holdin' on, and we keep bein' strong... and we keep goin' on and on and on and on...
