

She Don't Belong to Me

Tom Odell

My lover wears a t-shirt as she wanders
My lover wears a t-shirt as she wanders
My lover wears a t-shirt as she wanders
My lover wears a t-shirt as she wanders down the lanes
Stepping over cracks of all the worlds that she could save
As I begin to wonder will I ever be enough
Her hand it slips away from mine along with all the love
Rhythm of her heart
Rhythm of her heart
Rhythm of her heart My I wander it could be
Like a feather blowing in the wind, she don't belong to me
My I how happy we could be
Like a feather blowing in the wind, she don't belong to me
She let's you in her bed at night and keeps you from the cold
No matter how hard you hold her yeah you always wake alone
Like the sun, she lights you up and everyone around
But sure as hell that sun will set she'll always let you down My it's rhythm of her heart
Rhythm of her heart
Rhythm of her heart My I wander what it could be
Like a feather blowing in the wind she don't belong to me
My how happy we could be
Like a feather blowing in the wind she don't belong to me
Yeah, yeah No no, she don't
No no, she don't,
Yeah, she don't
No no, she don't
No no, she don't
Yeah
You'll say, you'll say
You'll say anything she wants You'll pray, you'll pray
You'll pray she takes you home You'll say, you'll say
You'll say anything she wants You'll say, you'll say, you'll say My suddenly you see,
Like a feather blowing in the wind she don't belong to me
My show happy we could be,
Like a feather blowing in the wind she don't belong to me, yeah.
