Sweet Surrender

Sarah McLachlan

It doesn't mean much It doesn't mean anything at all The life I've left behind me is a cold roomI've crossed the last line From where I can't return Where every step I took in faith betrayed me And led me from my homeAnd sweet surrender Is all that I have to giveTake me in, no question's asked You strip away the ugliness that surrounds me (Who are you?) Are you an angel? Am I already that gone? I only hope that I won't disappoint you When I'm down here on my knees (Who are you?) And sweet surrender Is all that I have to give (Who are you?) And sweet surrender Is all that I have to giveDon't understand The touch of your hand I would be the one to fall I miss the little things I miss everything about youDoesn't mean much It doesn't mean anything at all The life I left behind me is a cold room (Who are you?) And sweet surrender Is all that I have to give (Who are you?) And sweet surrender
