

One Night Is Not Enough

Snow Patrol

You left your door wide open
    Couldn't help but walk in
    It's the last place I should be
But I'm dying to see you Have I held out for something
That is never going to happen? It's not me that you love
    It's not me that you love
    It's not me that you love
    It's not me that you love
    It's not me that you love
    It's not me that you love
It's not me that you love It's not me that you love
    You woke up cold this morning
    Shied away from my touch
    I would never mean to hurt you
Cause I love you so much Was it always only one night
That you every wanted from me? It's not me that you love
    It's not me that you love
    It's not me that you love
    It's not me that you love
    It's not me that you love
    It's not me that you love
