

Footprints On The Moon (Live From The Goldmine)

Gabby Barrett

It's Everest, I know
"It's impossible, you're too young, or too old"
That's what they tell you, mmh
So that's what you tell you, too
So the light, it fades
When you figure out the rules, they change
When you touch it in your hands, it's sand
Slippin' through, but the truth is Everybody says that you can't till you do
Standin' there starin' at the mirror in the room
Tell yourself, "One more day, one more day, one more shot" (hang on)
The voices in the night, in your head, yeah they'll beg you to quit
And they'll tell you that it's hard 'cause it is
But you can do anything, anything you want to
There's footprints on the moon
Your knees, they'll shake
You're gonna wanna stay home, don't stay
The more your heart wants it, mmh
The harder it'll break, yeah Everybody says that you can't till you do
Standin' there starin' at the mirror in the room
Tell yourself, "One more day, one more day, one more shot" (hang on)
The voices in the night, in your head, yeah they'll beg you to quit
And they'll tell you that it's hard 'cause it is
But you can do anything, anything you want to
There's footprints on the moon
There's footprints on the moon Some days you're gonna win
Some days you're gonna be this close
Some days you wanna give up
But hang on
Everybody says that you can't till you do
Standin' there starin' at the mirror in the room
Tell yourself one more day, one more day, one more shot
The voices in the night, in your head, yeah they'll beg you to quit
And they'll tell you that it's hard 'cause it is
But you can do anything, anything you want to
There's footprints on the moon
There's footprints on the moon
