

Where I Stand

Mia Wray

I have seen a thousand things,
A thousand minds and what they bring.
To this world and to this home
But where I stand, well I don't know. I'm an open book.
I'll tell you everything I know.
To the darkest corners of my mind.
My kingdom is wide,
So wide-eyed I can't track the time, between the spaces of my mind.
Cause I have seen a thousand things,
A thousand minds and what they bring, to this world and to this home.
But where I stand, well I don't know... I have little trouble walking,
In directions I don't know of and I'm walking, and I'm walking blind. Cause I have seen a thousand things,
A thousand minds and what they bring, to this world and to this home.
But where I stand, well I don't know...
And people come and people go, people I will never know, but if I did and if I could, I'd wonder when and where they stood. Cause I have seen a thousand things,
A thousand mind and what they bring, to this world and to this home.
But where I stand, well I don't know.
