

World Without You

Beth Hart

Days an' nights, an' nights an' days
In silent shades of lazy grays
I call your name, it's all the same
Sitting, staring at the ceiling
Dripping painted, pictures peeling
From my walls, the time just crawls
Was it yesterday? I don't know
Was I dreaming or did I lose everything I believed in?
If you could only see what I see
Every time you leave
Imagine a world with no sky
Imagine the ocean run dry
Imagine, and you'll see the view
Of my world without you
Imagine no sun and no rain
Imagine that each day's the same
It doesn't matter, what I do
In a world without you
A doer's doing, thinker's thinking
Lonely lover's lips are sinking
In my tea, they're burning me
Wasted weeping, someone speaking
In my head, the bed is leaking tears again
And there's no end
Was it yesterday? I don't know
Was I dreaming or did I lose everything I believed in?
If you could only see what I see
Every time you leave
Imagine a world with no sky
Imagine the ocean run dry
Imagine, and you'll see the view
Of my world without you
Imagine no sun and no rain
Imagine that each day's the same
It doesn't matter what I do
In a world without you
And it's, nothing last forever
And it's, the empty never ends
And I can't stand the thought of breathing
Till I, I see you again
Imagine a world with no sky
Imagine the ocean run dry
Imagine, and you'll see the view
Of my world without you
Imagine no sun and no rain
Imagine that each day's the same
It doesn't matter what I do
In a world without you
Imagine, in a world without you
Imagine, in a world without you
Imagine, I don't wanna be alone
Imagine, in this world without you
Imagine a world with no sky
Imagine the ocean run dry

Imagine, and you'll see the view
I don't want, I don't want to be aloneImagine no sun and no rain
Imagine that each day's the same
It doesn't matter what I do
My world, your world, our world
