Amy

Ryan Adams

I don't know why I let go I want to be your friend Flowers grow through my window and I love you againOh I love you oh When you laid me down Into your beautiful garden Flowers in the love of my arms It's God shining through to me I guess It's God shining through to me I guess Oh I love you Amy Do you still love me?I go to the places where we used to I feel sad I am out here looking for you Sometimes I pretendOh I miss you oh When you laid me down Into your beautiful garden Flowers and the love in my arms Is God playing evil tricks on me Is God playing evil tricks on meOh I love you Amy Do you still love me? Oh I love you oh When you laid me down Into your beautiful garden Flowers in the love of my arms Is God playing evil tricks on me Is God playing evil tricks on meOh I love you Amy Do you still love me?

Lyrics provided by http://counterlikes.com/