

Forgive Me

Missy Higgins

Oh my son
Look at all I've done
But I am learning still, learning still
Know that I am learning still And, oh my wife
You are my life
And I am burning still, burning still
Now that I am burning for you still And all, all of my light is for you and home
Home's anywhere you are too
So take this one fallen man on his knees
Saying please forgive me
Forgive me
And oh, my God
How you make it hard
Not to pick the apple, pick the apple
And Lord I long to give it back And all, all, all of my light is for you and home
Home's anywhere you are too
So take this one fallen man on his knees
Begging please
And I was on shaky land
Lost and unsure
I opened my hand and she held it like sinking sand
After all, all, all of my light is for you and home
Home's anywhere you are too
So take this one fallen lad on his knees
Saying please
And all, all, all of my light is for you and home
Home's anywhere you are too
So take this one fallen lad on his knees
Saying please
Forgive me
Forgive me
Forgive
Forgive me
