Breaking Your Own Heart

Kelly Clarkson

Shaking your head like it's all wrong Before you're here you're already gone And even with the light all around you You're all alone in the darkYou're breaking your own heart Taking it too far down the lonely road You say you just want love But when it's close enough you just let it go The very thing you've been the most afraid of You've been doing it from the start Breaking your own heart Too many tears, too many falls It's easier here behind these walls But you don't have to walk in the shadows Life is so hardYou're breaking your own heart Taking it too far down the lonely road You say you just want love But when it's close enough you just let it go The very thing you've been the most afraid of You've been doing from the start Breaking your own heart

You're breaking your own heart

It's not too late, I'm still right here
If only you let go of your fears
You're breaking your heart
Taking your own heart down the lonely road
You say you just want love
But when it's close enough you just let it go
The very thing you've been the most afraid of You've been doing from the start
Breaking your own heart
