

Raining Again

Moby

Never know but nothing less
Couldn't see that I have guessed
Couldn't see, couldn't stay awayNever even stopped to dream and That I'd see anything and
The world is coming out so coldOh and it's raining again
Light on your car light, the bullets on tin
Oh and it's raining again
Open the door and pulling me inNothing here but nothing less
Cold heart is stuck in this
Couldn't say the kindest words we knewEverything I tried to say
But no one listens anyway
I had to give up everything I knew
Oh and it's raining again
Light on your car light, the bullets on tin
Oh and it's raining again
Open the door and pulling me inOh and it's raining
Raining again
Oh and it's raining
Raining againNothing here but nothing less
Everything we both regret
Couldn't say the kindest words we knew'Cause it was winter time and
We wanted some more time and
We watched the girls try something knewDidn't even stopped to see that
That it was breaking me and
The world is coming out so cold
What you want you couldn't get, you
Couldn't wait for something less, you
Had to give up everything you knewOh and it's raining again
Light on your car light, the bullets on tin
Oh and it's raining again
Open the door and pulling me inOh and it's raining again
Light on your car light, the bullets on tin
Oh and it's raining again
Open the door and pulling me inSadness like water
Raining down, raining down
Sadness like water
Raining down, raining downSadness like water
Raining down, raining down
Sadness like water
Raining down, raining downSadness like water
Raining down, raining down
Sadness like water

Raining down, raining down
Oh and it's raining
Raining again
Oh and it's raining
Raining again
