

Hold On

Flor

You come to life
When all the people on the streets start to rise
And the sun starts to open up our eyes
We can make this moment stay with us for a while
You can count on it, I'm where you left me
I can count on you, to show me the way
We can keep it light, were going somewhere
I won't try to fight it, don't feel like it
In your skin in your hair I'm tangled up
In my head in my mind I can't get out
When you twist and you turn teach me to run
I'd rather hold on
I'd rather hold on tight
You make it right
Every moment that we spend without time
Pain is something how we manage on the line
It's on us now to keep our route come hell high water
You can count on it, I'm where you left me
I can count on you, to show me the way
We can keep it light, were going somewhere
I won't try to fight it, don't feel like it
In your skin in your hair I'm tangled up
In my head in my mind I can't get out
When you twist and you turn teach me to run
I'd rather hold on
I'd rather hold on tight
You know that it's you the reason that I come alive come alive
It lives in your eyes
You know that it's you the reason that I come alive come alive
You know that it's you the reason that I come alive come alive
It lives in your eyes
You know that it's you the reason that I come alive come alive
In your skin in your hair I'm tangled up
In my head in my mind I can't get out
When you twist and you turn teach me to run
I'd rather hold on
I'd rather hold on
In your skin in your hair I'm tangled up
In my head in my mind I can't get out
When you twist and you turn teach me to run
I'd rather hold on

I'd rather hold on tight
