

Spinning Over You

Reyko

I'm sorry for the nights I let you down Now all that's left to see is that I turned around Back to the boy you fell in love with Not this prick that brings you down remind your mom to call me I still care cause her approval ment the world and i will not dare to disagree With the life you arrange Just remember only god knows if I change I'll sing along to every song I type a lie for the ride cause it would have,
I would write there to through the good times the bad ones too I'm here for you cause it might change you're the one who keeps me asleep on the nights where I can care less if I ever woke up again
