Night of Your Life (feat. Jennifer Hudson)

David Guetta

Boy I see ya, looking at me I feel you eyes on me, like you gotta have me Watching every move, like it's for you You can't help it, you're attracted like a magnet My love ain't easy You gon' have to put in some work You can't buy me a drink, thinking I'mma fall for your flirt You gotta make it right If you wanna go spend some time You gotta raise the bar tonightLove me, baby treat me right Make it eternity and not only one night If you love me till the end of time Then I will promise you the night of your life So now love me, baby treat me right And we'll be riding it from morning till midnight If you love me till the end of time Then I will promise you the night of your life Night of your life, life, life Night of your life, life, lifeI could have ya, if I wanted to Down in one knee, and following me where the bells ringing I could claim ya, be your savior Wrap your heart inside of these songs and you'll never leave I could have you hindsight, round my body all up on me Boy you'll be stuck to me, if I wanted with no releaseI'll have you begging, wishing now I give a piece

> Baby you'll never be the sameLove me, baby treat me right Make it eternity and not only one night If you love me till the end of time Then I will promise you the night of your life So now love me, baby treat me right And we'll be riding it from morning till midnight If you love me til the end of time Then I will promise you the night of your life Night of your life, life, life Night of your life, life, lifeTaller than the mountains, deeper than the sea You're boiling hot for me, one hundred degrees I want you to love me like you're afraid to dream Let's make tonight a realitySo now love me, baby treat me right And we'll be riding it from morning till midnight If you love me till the end of time Then I will promise you the night of your life
