Rescue

James Bay

I found you all alone
I came to warm your bones
There were twenty million tears in your handsYou found me in the dark
You came to heal my scars
I was slipping, sinking through the sandThey say the more you love the harder you fall
But I would rather hurt than nothing at all
Through the good, through the bad
Through the lonely
I always rescue you
You always rescue me
We never draw the line
But only 'cause you're mine
Only 'cause you promise me I'm yours
You made me fall apart
My song to get to her
Is there though when you're walking through the door
You know you keep me alive, ohThey say the more you love the harder you fall
But I would rather hurt than nothing at all
Through the good, through the bad
Through the lonely
I always rescue you
You always rescue meI rescue you
And you rescue me
I shelter you, you guide me
I lose myself, you find me
I shelter you, you guide me
I shelter you
They say the more you love the harder you fall
But I would rather hurt than nothing at all
Through the good, through the bad
Through the lonely
I always rescue you
You always rescue me
I always rescue you
I rescue you
You always rescue me
You rescue me
I always rescue you
I rescue you
Oh, I always rescue you
You always rescue me
