Deliverance

Cunning, Baffling, Powerful
Been beaten to a pulp
Vigorous, Irresistible
Sick and tired and laid low
Dominating, Invisible
Black-out, loss of control
Overwhelming, Unquenchable
I'm powerless, have to let go I can't escape it
It leaves me frail and worn
Can no longer take it
Senses tattered and torn
Hopeless surrender
Obsession's got me beat
Losing the will to live
Admitting complete defeat Fatal Descent
Spinning around
I've gone too far
To turn back round Desperate attempt
Stop the progression
At any length
Lift this obsession Crawling to my glass prison
A place where no one knows
My secret lonely world begins So much safer here
A place where I can go
To forget about my daily sins
Life here in my glass prison
A place I once called home
Fall in nocturnal bliss again Chasing a long lost friend
I no longer can control
Just waiting for this hopelessness to end
