Open arms wide as I reach for the blue skies
      To embrace we'll love her now
    We were made to last for a lifetime
   Searching the world to find our souls
        We're not gonna let you fall
          Behind behind
  We're gonna live, we'll never die (fade)
                We'll never
                   Die
                   Die
                   Die
                   Die
       We're gonna live, we'll never
                   Die
                   Die
                   Die
                   Die
Open arms wide as I reach for the blue skies
      To embrace we'll love her now
    We were made to last for a lifetime
   Searching the world to find our souls
     Deep in the darkest hour of night
    We're not gonna let you fall behind
      We're not afraid of losing time
  We're gonna live, well never die (fade)
                We'll never
                   Die
                   Die
                   Die
                   Die
       We're gonna live, we'll never
                   Die
                   Die
                   Die
                   Die
```
