Memory

Barbra Streisand

Midnight not a sound from the pavement Has the moon lost her memory? She is smiling alone In the lamplight, the withered leaves collect at my feet And the wind begins to moanMemory, All alone in the moonlight I can dream of the old days Life was beautiful then I remember the time I knew what happiness was Let the memory live again Every streetlamp seems to beat A fatalistic warning Someone mutters and the street lamp gutters And soon It will be morningDaylight I must wait for the sunrise I must think of a new life And I mustn't give in. When the dawn comes, tonight will be a memory too And a new day will beginBurnt out ends of smoky days The stale cold smell of morning A streetlamp dies, another night is over Another day is dawning... Touch me! It's so easy to leave me All alone with the memory Of my days in the sun... If you touch me, you'll understand what happiness is Look, a new day has begun.
