

You Don't Know

Jill Scott

Did you ever know what it means to be heard?
Did you ever feel like a jerk?
Did you ever give up on you pride just to have him by your side?
Well, if you don't know what I'm talking about,
you don't know nothing, you don't nothing,
you don't know,
you don't know nothing About love. When the night time comes do your tears fall like rain and in the morning do they fall all over again
Tell me did you get down on your knees and pray
That should never never never go away Well if you don't know what I am talking about
You don't know nothing
You don't know nothing
You don't know nothing
nothing about love
Don't try to tell me that I am out of my mind
Cause [?] I will be right behind
You don't know nothing
You don't know nothing
You don't know nothing
You don't know nothing
You don't know nothing
You don't know nothing
About love...
