

Rising, Rising

Crywolf

Lift up your eyes, child
Lift up your arms, you are home
I know you're hurt, child
But you can't do this on your own
And I can see your blood flow
And I can feel your hurt now
Did you think I'd let you be alone?
And I can hear your sorrow
Playing through the airways
I can tell your breath flows with my own
I will find you somehow
Let me be the salt in your wounds
Clean you from the inside
All your love is gone now
I've never been a coward, my dear
But I'm afraid of what you are
Lift up your eyes, child
Lift up your arms, you are home
I know you're hurt, child
But you can't do this on your own

I'll untie you
From the strings caught in your wings
And I'll try to
Fill in the gaps, all of the cracks they left behind
