Black Sun

Death Cab for Cutie

There is whiskey in the water and there is death upon the vine There is fear in the eyes of your father and there is "Yours" and there is "Mine" There is a desert veiled in pavement and there's a city of seven hills and all our debris flows to the ocean To meet again, I hope it willHow could something so fair

Be so cruel

When this black sun revolved

Around you!

There is an answer in a question and there is hope within despair and there is beauty in a failure,

And there are depths beyond compare

There is a role of a lifetime and there's a song yet to be sung and there's a dumpster in the driveway Of all the plans that came undoneHow could something so fair

Be so cruel

When this black sun revolved

Around you!

How could something so fair

Be so cruel

When this black sun revolved

Around you!

There is whiskey in the water and there is death upon the vine and there is grace within forgiveness

But it's so hard for me to findHow could something so fair

Be so cruel

When this black sun revolved

Around you!

How could something so fair

Be so cruel

When this black sun revolved

Around you!

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://counterlikes.com/