

Hurt

Get Scared

Oh yeah, oh yeah How do you sleep through the night
Where do you go when you hide
Waiting for the truth to call
I don't fear you anymore How do you think I'm alright
It's the way I wait
It's the way you've changed And I like the way you hurt inside
Always waiting for the worst, to get me by
And I like the way you hurt
Does it really come
Does it really come as a surprise
Oh, yeah, oh, yeah From all the years that went by
Through all of your shit I've survived
You would have thought I had died
But I made it out alive How do you sleep through the night
It's the lies you gave Now the rules have changed And I like the way you hurt inside
Always waiting for the worst, to get me by
And I like the way you hurt
Does it really come
Does it really come as a surprise It's no surprise
It's no surprise
It's the lies you gave
Now the rules have changed
And I like the way you hurt inside
Always waiting for the worst, to get me by
And I like the way you hurt
After all you've done, look what I've become
And I like the way you hurt inside
Always waiting for the worst, to get me by
And I like the way you hurt
Does it really come
It doesn't really come as a surprise
