

Darkest Hour

Charlotte OC

It wasn't meant to be like this
A life for someone else
There's a road to the righteous
That doesn't lead through hell
There's a drop on your eyelid
That stays just for him
There's a scream in your silence
That doesn't let anyone in
Now you don't understand why you stayed
As you lay in the coffin he made you
You're a stone that's been thrown in the lake
Now you sink in, it sinks in
In the top of the tower
The devil he waits, the devil he waits for you
In the darkest of hours
We pray, pray for you
I know you've been locked up there
With no hope anywhere
In the top of the tower
The devil he waits, the devil he waits for you
Now you lay in the ashes
Of the house you build
Out of old books and matches
But you lay there still
In the time of black magic
And they're out to kill
Here's my heart you can have it
And you always will
Now you don't understand why you stayed
Cause you lay in the coffin he made you
You're a stone that's been thrown in the lake
Now you sink in, it sinks in
In the top of the tower
The devil he waits, the devil he waits for you
In the darkest of hours
We pray, pray for you
I know you've been locked up there
With no hope anywhere
In the top of the tower
The devil he waits, the devil he waits for you
Oh oh oh oh oh
Oh oh oh oh oh
Oh oh oh oh oh
Oh oh oh oh oh
It wasn't meant to be like this

That doesn't lead through hell
Oh oh oh In the top of the tower
The devil he waits, the devil he waits for you
In the darkest of hours
We pray, pray for you
The devil he waits, the devil he waits for you
In the top of the tower
The devil he waits, the devil he waits for you
We pray, pray for you
But go open your way
