I Want Nothing

Kerli

Having the time of your lives Happy within your disguise Watch how the child in you dies Circles inside on your mindThere is more than meets the eye Life is more than meets the eyeStrange, how you got it But you're still coming back for more But I want nothing If you think that you got it Why they're treating you like a whore? And I want nothing Faking it all of the time Conscience, it cuts like a knife When will you start to realize? We don? t have time on our sideThere is more than meets the eye Hits you right between the eyesStrange, how you got it But you're still coming back for more But I want nothing If you think that you got it Why they're treating you like a whore? And I want nothing from you And I want nothing from you I want nothingThere is more than meets the eye Hits you right between the eyes Strange, how you got it But you're still coming back for more But I want nothing If you think that you got it Why they're treating you like a whore? And I want nothing from you And I want nothing from you And I want nothingStrange, how you got it But you're still coming back for more But I want nothing If you think that you got it Why they're treating you like a whore? And I want nothing from you And I want nothing from you And I want nothingStrange, how you got it But you're still coming back for more But I want nothing

If you think that you got it Why they're treating you like a whore?

And I want nothing
