

Empire

Delta Heavy

Time brings all things to pass

There are no second chances

There's only this moment and the next

Where everything you want will collide with everything standing in your way

Purpose and meaning are not to be found in the laws of nature

It is our job to create them

As we journey into the vast emptiness of the universe

And seek fellowship amongst ours

We are the architects of the future

This is our empireThis is our empire

This is our empire
