

Desiree

Sean Rowe

Well I know it won't be long,
I will sing another song but I can't remember now. You've broken every tie and I've swallowed every lie but I can't remember how. My life went down the wishing well but from my tongue I say, Desiree... Don't go away...
Desiree... Don't go away...
Desiree... Don't go away...
I know I must right
how you've stolen all the light you're a killer and a con
and I cannot understand for my love you give me sand and a rope to hang me on. My life went down the wishing well in my head I say I wish you well, but from my tongue I say...
Desiree... Don't go away.
Desiree... Don't go away.
Desiree... Don't go away.
Desiree... Don't go away. I can listen to the people who tell me I am blind,
I can take this sting away so I won't have the need to stay.
