Change Your Ticket

One Direction

Watching you get dressed
Messes with my head
Take that bag off your shoulder
Come get back in bed
We still got time left
This don't have to be overAnd you say It's hard to keep a secret
Girl, don't leave me all alone in this hotel
And these shades can hide us from the streets, yeah
One weekend, I promise that I'll never tellYou should probably stay, probably stay a couple more days
Come on let me change your ticket home
Oh, you should probably stay here with me a couple more days
Come on let me change your ticket home
Don't go, it's not the same when you're gone
And it's not good to be all alone
So, you should probably stay here with me a couple more days
Come on let me change your ticket homeDon't play innocent
I know what you meant
When you said you'd come over
Aren't we way past that?
Playin' hard to get
We did that when we were youngerAnd you say It's hard to keep a secret
Girl, don't leave me all alone in this hotel
And these shades can hide us from the streets, yeah
One weekend, I promise that I'll never tellYou should probably stay, probably stay a couple more days
Come on let me change your ticket home
Oh, you should probably stay here with me a couple more days
Come on let me change your ticket home
Don't go, it's not the same when you're gone
And it's not good to be all alone
Don't go, it's not the same when you're gone
Come on let me change your ticket homeWhy don't we take some time
Why don't we take just a little more time
Why don't we make it right
Girl, I don't wanna say goodbyeYou should probably stay, probably stay a couple more days
Come on let me change your ticket home
Oh, you should probably stay here with me a couple more days
Come on let me change your ticket homeDon't go, it's not the same when you're gone
And it's not good to be all alone
Don't go, it's not the same when you're gone

Come on let me change your ticket home
