

Inevitable

Lauren Daigle

I can feel when my mind starts to creep and to doubt
On the days when the strength in my heart's giving out
There's a light but it hides from me deep in the cloud
There's a voice that I need but I don't hear a sound
Ever running to what I can't see
Fighting out of all my unbelief
Father, even then my song will be
I know You will always carry me
It's inevitable
Set Your promise to play on repeat in my head
When You meet my anxiety, put it to death
Ever running to what I can't see
Fighting out of all my unbelief
Father, even then my song will be
I know You will always carry me
It's inevitable
It's inevitable
It's inevitable
It's inevitable
