

Set to Fail

Lamb of God

You want to blame me for the way you hate yourself
You think you can find who you are in someone else
Criticize to better your relative positioning
You've got a long way to go So go and weave your tale of woe
Convincing yourself it's so
You're so set to fail Somewhere you've finally lost your way
A nameless heir apparent, paranoid despair
You take great measure to appear like you don't care
Precision and persuasion must precede the proper lie
You've lost it before you began So go and weave your tale of woe
Convincing yourself it's so
you're so set to fail Somewhere you've finally lost your way
So go and weave your tale of woe
Convincing yourself it's so you're so set to fail
Somewhere you've finally lost your way
